Developmental Questions and Observations
 Ask the parent to respond to the following statements about the infant:
 Yes No
  Please tell me any concerns about the way your baby is behaving or developing:
  My baby seeks comfort when upset.
  My baby smiles and laughs.
  My baby says things like "da-da" or "ba-ba".
  My baby eats some solid foods.
  My baby sits with help/support.
  My baby can pick up objects.
  My baby likes to look at and be with me.
  My baby rolls over.

Ask the parent to respond to the following statements:
 Yes No
  I am sad more often than I am happy.
  I have people who help me when I get frustrated.
  I am enjoying my baby more days than not.
  I have a daily routine that seems to work.
  I keep in contact with family and friends.
  I feel safe with my partner.

Provider to follow up as necessary

Developmental Milestones

Always ask parents if they have concerns about development or behavior. (You may use the following screening list, or a standardized developmental instrument or screening tool. Tool Used: _____)

Infant Development	Yes	No	Parent shows confidence with baby	Yes	No
Turns to sounds/voices			Parent comforts baby effectively
Can be comforted most of the time			Parent and baby are interested in and respond to each other
Smiles, squeals and laughs spontaneously			Parent seems depressed, angry, tired, overwhelmed, or uncomfortable
Has no head lag when pulled to sit			Parent notices and responds to baby's needs and needs

Please note: Normal developmental variations are incorporated when screening suggests a child is abnormal, especially when the opportunity for continuing observation is not adequate. (Adapted/Revised: Guidelines for Health Supervision of Infants, Children, and Adolescents)
