The American Heart Association strongly promotes knowledge and proficiency in BLS, ACLS, and PALS and has developed instructional materials for this purpose. Use of these materials in an educational course does not represent course sponsorship by the American Heart Association, and any fees charged for such a course do not represent income to the Association.

Program Objective

The objective of Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS) is to provide participants with knowledge and experience to be proficient in administering emergency care to pediatric patients according to American Association standards.

McLaren Flint is accredited by the Michigan State Medical Society Commission on CME accreditation and is approved to provide Continuing Medical Education for physicians.

McLaren Flint designates this educational activity for maximum of 7.5 AMA PRA Category 1 credits for the recertification program and 12.8 AMA PRA Category 1 credits for the full provider program. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
